THE LEARNING CONNECTIONS

TLC is a progressive arts organization dedicated to bringing young people together to engage in meaningful arts experiences that promote creative exploration, collaborative learning, and inspiration for the imagination.

TLC collaborates with National and International Agencies as well as preschool organizations to provide high quality and authentic arts integrated programmes and arts education for children. TLC also consults with schools to provide continuing professional development workshops and/or customized residency programmes focusing on developing teachers' capacity in using the arts to support their educational/curriculum goals.

SING A SONG OF SIXPENCE WORKSHOP FOR EDUCATORS

There was never a dull moment for 62 participants at the Sing a Song of Sixpence educators' workshop on 1st December 2016, facilitated by Ms Tanya Batt (and musically supported by her talented partner Peter Forster), a writer, early childhood arts educator, and international storyteller from New Zealand.

Tanya had the diverse group of early childhood leaders and educators from local and international preschools as well as TLC's arts educators singing, chanting, dramatizing, moving and grooving to songs, nursery rhymes and stories! Sing a Song of Sixpence provided educators with strategies on how to fully engage and expose children to the world of interactive expressive arts education in a vibrant, fun and creative way!
